C. B. WELHAUSEN.

Letter to J. E. Martin.
SHINER, TEXAS.

Dear Sir: Porterhouse, so much; neck, so much; all the way between.

Just so with paint. Devos lead-and-zinc is the porterhouse. Nobody wants the neck, the between some say, is good enough for them.

But Devos costs less, not more, than between. Lead-and-oil is between; it is the old-fashion paint.
But zinc has come in. Zinc toughens white lead. Devos lead-and-zinc is the paint that wears twice as long as lead and oil.

Mr. John M. Dettel, Fair Haven,
N. Y. writes:

"Mr. Charles Hollenbeck of this place painted his house three years ago with Devos lead and zinc; his father painted at the same with lead and oil. To-day the son's house looks as well as the day it was painted, while the father's house has all chalked off and needs painting very badly. The father says he will paint with Devos next time."

Yours truly,

F. W. Devos & Co.
C. L. Williams sells our paint.

The April number of The Lantern, Senter's magazine published monthly at Dallas, may justly be said to be the spokesman of the silent millions of people who have no lobby at Austin, to make reply to the large array of lobbyists for special interests who are fighting all tax reform measures and seek to place the burdens of an increased tax rate upon the land owners, stock growers and merchants of Texas, who already pay an undue proportion of the cost of the state government. The Lantern announces a special offer of a trip for four months for ten cents.

The noticeable individuality in our work is the result of long and ardent devotion to the study of photography, helped by a wide practical experience in the handling of the camera. Come in; we are sure we can please you.

The czar wants peace—with honor and everything else that he had before the war. Japan has got the bear by the tail and a down-hill pull, and if she lets go without making him get out of Manchuria she will not deserve the sympathy that has been so freely bestowed upon her.—Houston Post.

Seasonable.

For months we'll have to buy no coal,
Which makes us all feel nice,
But now it puts us in the hole To dig the dough for ice.
And thus the season comes and goes Beftaught with evils thick, But this is one thing that we know—
It does no good to kick.
